About the workshop

In every country, law enforcement agencies are in the front line of dealing with society's most difficult individuals and, together with state prosecutors, regularly confront extremely challenging situations. Citizens look to these agencies to do their immensely difficult job in an effective, legal, appropriate and proportionate way. It is important to the safety and wellbeing of citizens, as well as the preservation of the rule of law, that arrangements are put in place to support the police and the prosecutorial authorities in getting it right first time as often as possible and, when things do go wrong, to learn the lessons.

This one-week workshop will explore the role and current work of the organisations tasked with these responsibilities in England and Wales. It will look in particular at how effectively these bodies work together, and how well they respond to the needs of the most vulnerable and disadvantaged in society.

Who is it for?

This workshop is designed for policy makers, practitioners and senior decision-makers across the justice sector. These will include:

- Senior police officers and representatives from generalist and specialist law enforcement agencies
- Attorneys General and their staff
- Judges
- Lawyers
- Prosecutors
- Managers of custodial services
- Policy advisers and managers from Ministries of the Interior, Home Affairs or Internal Security
- Legal and judicial reform specialists
- Human rights advocates
- Youth justice workers
- Others concerned with making the criminal justice sector work more effectively for the benefit of all citizens, to uphold the rule of law and advance speedy, fair and reliable justice

How participants will benefit

The workshop will:

- Familiarise you with the responsibilities of the police and the Crown Prosecution Services (CPS) and how they are held accountable for their work
- Explore the various codes and charters which inform police and CPS decision making
- Set their work in the context of the prevailing strategy for reform
- Describe emerging trends and examine current challenges and priorities
- Consider special arrangements made for the most vulnerable and the most dangerous in society
- Set a vision for the future of the criminal justice sector
- Provide you with an opportunity to compare experiences of reforming criminal justice in various countries
- Help you to identify practical ways of initiating relevant and sustainable change to enhance multi-agency working in the criminal justice sector on return to your own country

What the workshop will cover

The workshop will concentrate on preventing, investigating and prosecuting crime and the role of the police and prosecution service. Issues explored will include:

- The way in which crime in England and Wales is changing and how citizens and politicians react to these changes
- How the police do their job and ways in which society holds them accountable
- The particular challenges of juvenile crime and ways of meeting these challenges
- The work of the Crown Prosecution Service and special arrangements for the most vulnerable in society
- Lessons from situations where barriers to effective partnership working have been overcome

You will be invited to give an informal presentation on your own justice system and to talk about a particular area of criminal justice from your own country.

“Exciting presentations. I have learnt that justice must have a human face.”

Charles Chanda
High Court Judge,
The Judiciary of Zambia

“This is a remarkable training programme for me. Everything was good. I have gathered much experience about how to develop our criminal justice system.”

Md. Nazimuddaula
Chief Judicial Magistrate
Office of the President
Bangladesh

Workshop Director

The Workshop Director will be Neil McCallum. Neil has worked with police services, judiciaries, prosecutors and prison authorities around the world on various aspects of criminal justice reform. Recent assignments include the design and delivery of a series of capacity building workshops in Nigeria attended by over 300 Justices of the Court of Appeal and Chairs of Election Petition Tribunals, advising on the creation of a new Anti-Corruption Court in Sierra Leone, and UK based workshops for prosecutors from Qatar and judges from Sri Lanka. Neil directs annual professional development workshops with PAI on various justice sector and anti-corruption issues.

Neil is a member of the Royal African Society and the Royal Commonwealth Society. In 2017 he was elected a Fellow of the Institute of Information Management of Africa in recognition of his contribution to improvements in public sector information handling in Africa.

How to apply

Please complete the PAI application form online via our website: <https://public-admin.co.uk/booking-form/>.

You can also complete our hard copy application form. Please contact us at pai@public-admin.co.uk to obtain a copy. Once completed return to Amanda Anderson, Programme Manager, at the same email address.

If you would like to discuss this workshop, any of our other international workshops or our consultancy services, please contact Claire Cameron, Director.

We also have extensive experience of designing tailor-made training (from one day to two or three weeks) which can be run in your own country or in the UK to meet the specific needs of groups or individuals at all levels within your organisation. Please contact us if you would like further information.

Language

The workshop is conducted in English. You will need to have a good working knowledge of the language.

Location and arrival arrangements

The workshop is based in central London. Visits to people who have direct experience of managing in the UK criminal justice system will be included. We can arrange travel to and from one of the London airports into central London if you let us have your flight arrival details in good time. The cost of airport transfers is included in the fee.

Fees

The tuition fee is £2,250. This includes tuition, travel to and from the airport in London, travel on scheduled visits which form part of the programme¹, presentation material and other documentation. It also includes an Android tablet for you to use during the workshop and take home with you for future follow up. We also provide a light lunch and refreshments during each working day as part of the fee.

Other costs

Airfares and daily travel to and from the workshop venue are not included. Our workshops are non-residential and you are responsible for your accommodation costs. We can help you with booking hotel accommodation so please let us know if you would like us to advise you or make a reservation. We suggest that you should allow approximately £160 per day for a modest standard of hotel (for example, three-star), local travel in the UK, meals (apart from a light lunch on working days) and other incidental expenses.

Value Added Tax

We do not have to charge UK Value Added Tax (VAT) if you can provide written confirmation from your government or its accredited representative that you are "employed by the government in furtherance of its sovereign activities". In all other cases, we will have to charge VAT (currently 20%) in addition to the fee.

Ways to pay

You, or your government agency, can pay by bank transfer or by cheque, made payable to Public Administration International. We accept payment by credit or debit card but there is a surcharge for this way of paying. Please contact us if you would like to pay by credit or debit card.

Discounts

We offer a 10% reduction on the full tuition fee if we receive payment no later than 28 days before the first day of the workshop. If we receive payment after that, we will charge the full tuition fee.

Cancellation

If you have to cancel your booking, you must let us know in writing and we will acknowledge in writing your cancellation. For cancellations received up to 29 days before the start of the workshop we will refund the tuition fee, minus a charge of £200 to cover our administration costs. For cancellations received within 28 days of the start of the workshop, we will charge the full tuition fee. If you have paid the tuition fee and have subsequently been refused a visa to enter the UK, we will refund the tuition fee, minus a charge of £200 to cover our administration costs, providing you send us the original letter from the British High Commission/Embassy confirming refusal of a visa and providing you have not entered the UK.

Substitutions and transfers

If you have booked a place on a workshop and are not able to attend, we will accept a substitute at any time without penalty but our normal terms and conditions will apply. Also, it is possible to transfer to a future workshop but only one transfer is permitted. Please get in touch with us and we will advise you about transfers.

Please see our website for our full terms and conditions. If you would prefer a hard copy of our full terms and conditions, please let us know.
