About the workshop

This workshop will examine the impact of law and judicial decisions upon policy making and public administration and will explore ways in which the understanding and handling of legal issues in public bodies might be improved. During the workshop you will be able to explore current and continuing developments in administrative and constitutional law in the UK and in your own jurisdictions; the working relationships between lawyers and non-lawyers in public bodies; and the respective roles of adjudicative bodies such as administrative courts, tribunals and ombudsman. The programme will consider these issues against the wider background of continuing transformative changes – including the growth of populist politics, the pervasive use of social media and the impact of major national and international crises such as the COVID-19 pandemic.

These issues have been recognised and are addressed in an official document published and regularly updated by the UK Cabinet Office, called The Judge Over Your Shoulder, discussion of which will feature strongly in the workshop programme.

Who is the workshop for?

The workshop is designed primarily, but by no means exclusively, for senior non-legally qualified policy makers and leaders in the public sector, who would benefit from an enhanced understanding of the many legal issues that are relevant to their work. It will also be of benefit to judges and legally qualified officials who are interested in recent and continuing developments in public law and would welcome an opportunity to engage in constructive professional dialogue with their non-lawyer colleagues.

How participants will benefit

The workshop will give you the opportunity to:

- Examine the ways in which law has an impact upon decision making
- Highlight the nature, the importance and the limitations of the rule of law as the basis for legal accountability of public office holders
- Discuss the impact of the COVID-19 crisis on the administration of justice and the rule of law
- Explore the respective roles of lawyers and non-lawyers in the public service
- Familiarise you with recent and continuing developments in administrative and constitutional law in the UK which have relevance to your own jurisdiction
- Consider the respective roles of administrative courts and other adjudicative bodies and the relationships between them
- Visit, in person or online, practitioners in key organisations such as the Supreme Court, the Administrative Court, the Government Legal Department and a specialised tribunal
- Help you to identify practical ways in which the identification and handling of legal issues in your own organisation might be improved.

How to apply

Please complete the PAI application form online via our website: www.public-admin.co.uk/booking-form/

You can also complete our hard copy application form. Please contact us at pai@public-admin.co.uk to obtain a copy. Once completed please return to Amanda Anderson, Programme Manager, at the same email address.

If you would like to discuss this workshop, any of our other international workshops or our consultancy services, please contact Claire Cameron, Director. We also have extensive experience of designing tailor-made training (from one day to two or three weeks) which can be run in your own country or in the UK to meet the specific needs of groups or individuals at all levels within your organisation. Please contact us if you would like further information.

Language

The workshop is conducted in English. You will need to have a good working knowledge of the language.

Location and arrival arrangements

The workshop is based in central London. Visits to appropriate government departments, courts, or other relevant organisations will be included. We can arrange travel to and from one of the London airports into central London if you let us have your flight arrival details in good time. The cost of airport transfers is included in the workshop fee.

Fees

The fee for this one-week workshop is £2,290 and includes tuition, travel to and from the airport in London, travel on scheduled visits which form part of the programme¹, presentation material and other documentation. It also includes an Android tablet for you to use during the workshop and take home with you for future reference and follow up. We provide a light lunch and refreshments during each working day as part of the fee.

Other costs

Airfares and daily travel to and from the workshop venue are not included. Our workshops are non-residential and you are responsible for your accommodation costs. We can help you with booking hotel accommodation so please let us know if you would like us to advise you or make a reservation. We suggest that you should allow approximately £160 per day for a modest standard of hotel (for example, three-star), local travel in the UK, meals (apart from a light lunch on working days) and other incidental expenses.

Value Added Tax

We do not have to charge UK Value Added Tax (VAT) if you can provide written confirmation from your government or its accredited representative that you are "employed by the government in furtherance of its sovereign activities". In all other cases, we will have to charge VAT (currently 20%) in addition to the fee.

Ways to pay

You, or your government agency, can pay by bank transfer or by cheque, made payable to Public Administration International. We also accept payment by credit or debit card but there is a surcharge for this way of paying. Please contact us if you would like to pay by credit or debit card.

Discounts

We offer a 10% reduction on the full tuition fee if we receive payment no later than 28 days before the first day of the workshop. If we receive payment after that, we will charge the full tuition fee.

Cancellation

If you have to cancel your booking, you must let us know in writing and we will acknowledge in writing your cancellation. For cancellations received up to 29 days before the start of the workshop we will refund the tuition fee, minus a charge of £200 to cover our administrative costs. For cancellation received within 28 days of the start of the workshop, we will charge the full tuition fee. If you have paid the tuition fee and have subsequently been refused a visa to enter the UK, we will refund the tuition fee, minus a charge of £200 to cover our administration costs, providing you send us the original letter from the British High Commission/Embassy confirming of a refusal of a visa and proving you have not entered the UK.

Substitutions and transfers

If you have booked a place on a workshop and are not able to attend, we will accept a substitute at any time without penalty but our normal terms and conditions will apply. Also, it is possible to transfer to a future workshop but only one transfer is permitted. Please get in touch with us and we will advise you about transfers.

Please see our website for our full terms and conditions. If you would prefer a hard copy of our full terms and conditions, please let us know.
